

Work With Me

Michael-Ann Rowe

Emmy® Award Winning television personality, food & travel journalist; a culinary advocate, specializing in seafood. Pairs well with her theatrical background :)

Let's work together!

My name is Michael-Ann Rowe. My website is full of activity and opportunities around food and culture. As an Emmy Award® recipient, I am grateful for my first three-part food & travel documentary series, Off the Beaten Palate, that was broadcast on PBS. This award came after much focus and hard work, and it's the kind of work I will bring to your project!

If farm to table, or sea to plate is on your mind, your in the right place.
